

Wild plants of Chandigarh - Specimen 1

JASVEEN DUA

READ REVIEWS

WRITE A REVIEW

CORRESPONDENCE:

jasveen.dua@ggdsd.ac.in

DATE RECEIVED:

November 24, 2018

© Dua This article is distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and redistribution in any medium, provided that the original author and source are credited.

[gallery ids="84751,84752,84753"]

Collection site – Sec-32 ,Chandigarh

Habitat – Wild

Habit – Climber

Inflorescence – Dichasial to polychasial cymes

Flower – Actinomorphic, polypetalous, 5 stamens, exerted, protruding out of flower, style, simple and linear

Fruit – Ellipsoidal

Foldscope description – When the different parts were seen under a foldscope, trichomes were seen along the filaments and also on the petals and the pollen were spherical in shape with smooth exine

[gallery ids="84764,84762,84761,84760,84759,84758,84757,84756,84755"]