

Pollen of a fodder bean under foldscope

KANWAR SINGH

READ REVIEWS

WRITE A REVIEW

CORRESPONDENCE:

palkanwar1995@gmail.com

DATE RECEIVED:

December 06, 2018

Dolichos lablab is an important fodder crop and highly nutritious as rich in proteins. The pollen grains were isolated from mature flowers and observed under foldscope.

[gallery columns="4" ids="94595,94596,94597,94598"]

© Singh This article is distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and redistribution in any medium, provided that the original author and source are credited.

